Bibliography in supp. mat.

Appendix 2 to Phylogenetic Transfer Learning

Michael D. Catchen [1,2]

[1] McGill University [2] Québec Centre for Biodiversity Sciences

This work is released by its authors under a CC-BY 4.0 license

Last revision: May 6, 2023

Supp. Mat. can use their own bibliography. For example, we can cite this really old paper about what parasitism really is: Fahrenholz (1913).

References

Fahrenholz, H. (1913). Ectoparasiten und abstammungslehre. Zool. Anz., 41, 371–374.